FROM THE RICHMOND ENQUIRER.

OF
COLONEL A. BURR.

MOTION FOR COMMITMENT.

EXAMINATION OF EVIDENCE.

THURSDAY, October 8.

General Wilkinson in explanation of major Bruff's testimony.

Mr. Hay said he was ready to go on with the argument of the cause; but would not do it unless directed by the court. An attack had been made on general W. by major Bruff, which it was the right & the duty of general Wilkinson to explain. Not a word in the long and labored narrative of major Bruff was testimony applicable to the case before the court. But having made such serious charges against general Wilkinson, justice requires that the general should be heard in explanation.

General Wilkinson. I have several matters to submitt to the court which have been brought to my recollection by the occurrences of yesterday and the day before.

Grand jury have been brought forward to contrast my evidence before that body with what I have said here—in the wide range of testimony which has been permitted, a witness may be readily misconceived by others or misunderstand himself. In the case of Mr. Tazewell, your honor's sense of his testimony, was in direct opposition to that of Mr. Burr's counsel; and in the case of Mr. Cabell, one of the most correct men in the world, he had misconceived or did not understand me respecting the mode in which Swartwout delivered Mr Burr's letter to me. It is with deep regret I trespass upon the time of the court, but when every art is employed and witnesses are scraped and raked from every quarter to rip up the remotest transactions of my life, to affect my credibility, to wound my fame and rob me of my reputation.

Here Mr. Wickham interrupted general Wilkinson, and said he must object to the course which he was about to pursue. General Wilkinson stands here on the same ground as any other witness. Let his explanations apply to his evidence, but not let him go into other subjects.

Mr. McRae hoped that the same indulgence which had been extended to others would be granted to general Wilkinson. It will be recollected with what patience their witness, major Bruff, had been heard for six hours, while he was merely indulging himself in the carnage of general Wilkinson's reputation: general Wilkinson who had been listening with the most exemplary patience, now comes forward to explain, and in the midst of a very short and respectful exordium, he is interrupted by the counsel on the other side.

The Chief Justice said that there could be no doubt of the disposition of the court to hear as full an explanation as general Wilkinson might please to make; but he being merely in the character of a witness would confine himself to a narrative of facts, and resort to argument as little as possible.

Mr. Hay hoped that something of argument would be permitted. General Wilkinson had been assailed vitally, intentionally and deliberately by major Bruff; and his explanations could not be so well understood unless he should, in some instances resort to argument.

The General resumed: When I was first brought before the court, it was my intention to have commenced with Mr. Burr at Washington, and to have traced him step by step from his passage of the mountains until his return—but I was confined to such facts as were deemed immediately relevant to the question before the court, and therefore I commenced with the reception of his letter at Natchitoches.

I now, sir, find myself obliged to adopt this course in order to explain certain observations, which have come from the grand jurors, and also the inuendoes and insinuations of the witness, major Bruff; who having charged me with a sinister connexion with Mr. Burr, has travelled from Washington to St. Louis to find matter for justification of the imputation. He has laid some stress on the interest which he says was made (by Mr. Burr and his friends) to procure me the government of Louisiana. I am under no obligation to explain how I procured that government; if I were, I could say it had been tendered to me by the president, two months before they had any idea of the circumstance.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, December 2.

The Speaker laid before the house letters from the secretary at war and the secretary of the navy inclosing reports in pursuance of the resolutions moved by Mr. J. Clay on the 16th ult.

The following petitions were presented and referred:

By Mr. M'Creery, the petition of sundry journeymen hatters of the city of Baltimore.

By Mr. Porter, the petitions of Wm. L. Duncan and Leonard Keehmley.

By Mr. Milnor, the petition of Ernest Greese.

By Mr. J. Montgomery, the petition of Thomas Baker.

By Mr. Van Rensselaer, the petition of Samuel Whiting.

By Mr. Nelson, the petition of John Tozer.

By Mr. Johnson, the petition of Daniel Boone.

Mr. Parke moved the following resolution, which was agreed to:

Resolved, That the committee on so much of the message of the president of the U. S. as relates to our intercourse with the Indian tribes, be instructed to enquire whether any, and if any, what alterations ought to be made in the act entitled, "An act to regulate trade and intercourse with the Indian tribes and to preserve peace on the frontiers," and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Milnor offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That 350 copies be the number of all such papers as may be ordered by this house to be printed for the use of this house, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

After some conversation on this resolution between Messrs. Milnor, Dana, D. R. Williams, and Southard, the motion was negatived—Ayes 39.

Mr. Dawson made the following report:

The committee to whom was referred that part of the president's message which relates to our military and naval establishments, &c. beg leave to make the following report in part.

1. Resolved, That it is expedient to increase the military establishment of the U. S. by raising regiments of infantry to consist of men each; regiments of artillerists of men each; regiments of riflemen of men each, and regiments of cavalry of men each.

2. Resolved, That it is expedient to increase the marine corps by raising additional number of men.

3. Resolved, That provision ought to be made by law for the speedy equipment of all the frigates and other vessels of war belonging to the U. S. To render the establishment more effectual that ships of guns each be built.

This report was referred to a committee of the whole on Monday next.

Mr. J. Montgomery offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire whether any, and if any, what amendments are necessary to the laws for the punishment of certain crimes against the U. S. and to report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. M said he was induced to bring forward this resolution from the occurrence which had taken place in the state of Maryland. The ship Othello of the port of Baltimore, had been attacked and captured by a pirate, who afterwards tho't proper to release her, after which she arrived in safety in port. The circumstance occasioned considerable irritation in the city of Baltimore, and a number of gentlemen went out from Baltimore equipped for the purpose and took the privateer.—The case was examined before the district judge of Maryland, and Mr. M. had in his possession the opinion on the case, which had been transmitted to the executive of Maryland by the district judge, which stated that the courts of the U. S. had not cognizance of the crime. The judge informed the executive of the state that they were remanded to Calvert county for trial, and the state of Maryland had gone so far as to enquire of a gentleman of the law of considerable eminence in the state of Maryland, as to the proper tribunal, who declared that neither the courts of the U. S. or of Maryland had cognizance of the offence. In consequence, the court of Calvert county, when the case was brought before it, as it had no cognizance, discharged the prisoners, who were now at large. This was an offence which ought to be punished somewhere and as no court had cognizance, jurisdiction ought to be extended for the purpose. This was the intention of the resolution. The house would perceive that this was a case of great importance to the commercial interests of the city of Baltimore, as the law at present stood, a man who committed a robbery on the high seas could be punished for the offence, but a man who committed piracy in a pickaroon in the Chesapeake bay, was not amenable to the law.

NEW YORK, December 3.

The brig Leopard, captain Jordan, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon from Liverpool. She left there on the 19th October, and brings London papers of the 17th, and Lloyd's Lists of the 13th, a file of each of which is received at the Office of the Mercantile Advertiser.—The Leopard brings also dispatches for the secretary of state.

LONDON, October 2.

The prince Adolphus Packet, from Americs, and the Walsingham packet, in eight days from Lisbon, are arrived at Falmouth.

The Walsingham, we understand, has brought, as passengers, 21 of the principal English merchants of Lisbon. By her we learn, that all the English are preparing to leave that city under an apprehension of a visit from the French. One of the passengers who came up to town express, reports, that the Portuguese government has yielded to the demands of Bonaparte; and that all the ports of that kingdom are in future to be shut against us. By this, therefore, we are to understand that the prince regent will not emigrate.

Government has received, by the Electra sloop of war, dispatches from lord Collingwood, confirming the failure of sir Arthur Paget's commission to the Ottoman Porte.

It is reported that, by the same channel, accounts of the British army evacuating Sicily for Malta have come to hand; and that Bonaparte had influenced the emperor of Morocco to withhold supplies from Gibralter.

Sir John Borlase Warren is appointed to supercede admiral Berkeley on the American station. Whatever may be the opinion of ministers as to the recent conduct of their officer, or however hostile or conciliating their sentiments towards America, we must regard the measure of removing admiral Berkeley as not only prudent but necessary.

Master Rose likewise proceeds on a special mission to the U. S. We have no doubt that he is a BUD of much promise, from the importance of the mission assigned to him. Some, however, are inclined to think that he springs from too bad a ROOT ever to expand into a FLOWER of real merit.

Letters from Copenhagen state, that 7 of the first mercantile houses in that city had stopped payment.

It was reported yesterday, that our troops in Sicily had evacuated that island, and gone to Malta and Egypt.

Several private letters received from Lisbon, by the Albion, mention the probability of an insurrection among the populace, if the prince regent should persist in his determination in shipping himself and his treasures for the Brazils. This we think extremely likely to happen; not that we imagine the Portuguese would much care what would become of their prince; but, we think, they must be roused when they see the treasure about being conveyed away.

We are astonished that our wise ministers in their anxiety to save every thing from the grasp of Bonaparte, should have overlooked the old silver, & other valuables with which the convents and churches of Lisbon abound—the same reasons may be urged for seizing them which have been for seizing on the Danish fleet, &c. viz. the probability of their falling into the hands of the French emperor. With respect to the honor of the thing we do not think those who have ordered the Danes to be pillaged of a quantity of old iron and fire wood would blush at it.

We are sorry to learn that it is a prevailing opinion with persons who have access to the best information from Russia that the ascendancy of French politics in the government of that country can no longer be doubted. It is even reported by an American vessel arrived in 15 days from St. Petersburgh, that an embargo has been laid on all British ships in the Russian dominions. For the truth of intelligence coming through such a channel, we would by no means pledge ourselves; but it is ed considerable credit this morning on Change.

Austria it is probable will not long remain mistress of the provinces contiguous to the Adriatic. The possession of Istria if not of Carniola also, is necessary to the views of France, and if required by her at present must be surrendered. Some arrangement of this nature is suggested in a demi official paper. The paragraph states "that the dominions of the emperor of Austria are about to undergo a change, that they are to be narrowed to the east, and widened to the west." The French, indeed appear to exercise all the right incidental to compleat occupation already; they have caused the ports of Trieste, and Fiume to be shut against us.

Prince Koutakin, who concluded and signed the treaty of Tilsit, has been raised to the rank of a field marshal.

A vessel arrived at Inverness from Cronstadt, the master of which relates, that before he left that place, the emperor Alexander had three times visited Cronstadt, for the purpose of viewing the experiments made on a vessel at some small distance, by the fire from the fortifications, that, should a British fleet appear, the inhabitants might learn how far the fort of Cronstadt could afford protection. The Russians were highly elated with the success of these experiments, but expressed themselves very unwilling to go to war with England: the merchants in particular openly declared their determination to oppose it by every means in their power.

The American ship Pegou, captain Collett, is arrived at Yarmouth from St. Petersburg which place he left the 25th and Cronstadt 27th ult. The capt. states, that, at his departure, much uneasiness was manifested at both those places in consequence of a report confidentially circulated, that Lord Collingwood had received orders to possess himself of the Russian fleet in the Mediterranean.

October 17.

A proclamation will, it is reported, appear in this night's Gazette; requiring all the sailors of the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the employ of any foreign power, to leave the same, and return to Great Britain and Ireland, under pain of being considered, in the event of their refusal, deserters, and to be treated as such, after a limitted time.

(Courier.)

LISBON, October 2.

Much alarm at present prevails here, in consequence of official intimation to the British merchants of the necessity of removing their property and persons as soon as possible. Several of the Portuguese men of war are ready for sea, but it seems yet doubtful if the prince will embark for the Brazils. The commander of the Raven, which is stationed out side the bar, has directions to cause all vessels that may arrive from Newfoundland, to wait at Cuscaes bay, untill an answer be received from the consigners. The Lively frigate and Cepalus brig of war, are here. We have been hoping for a British squadron.

DECREE.

Taking into consideration the stagnation which, under the present circumstances, the trade of Lisbon has suffered, and that the funds for payment of engagement on the day fixed may not be ready owing to embarrassments which could not be foreseen; and wishing to apply a remedy which may preserve unimpaired the credit of the merchants.

I deem it proper, that the day on which the inland bills (and no others) shall fall due, may be prolonged three months, at the end of which they are to recover their full force as well towards acceptors as drawers and endorsers; it being nevertheless understood that payments may voluntarily be made within the time granted, at the discretion of those that may chuse to do so.

Hamburg papers arrived late this morning to the 30th ult. The following are the most material articles in them.

LOWER ELBE, Sept. 29.

The recent proceedings of the English near Lubeck, where they have already taken several ships bound to or from Russia, seem to indicate hostile designs.

Off Barnholm, some Russian frigates have been seen, they are probably cruising here to observe the movements of the English fleet.

The blockade of the Ems, Elbe and Weser, for neutral ships bound to neutral ports, has been raised.—Altona Mercury.

LISBON, October 3.

The following communication to the royal board of commerce, agriculture, manufactures, and navigation of Portugal, was sent by the secretary of state:

"Our sovereign, the Prince Regent, has it not in his power to prevent the departure from this city of his Catholic majesty's ambassador, and of the charge d'affaires to his majesty the emperor and king of Italy; he has, notwithstanding, well grounded hope that their absence will only be temporary, and that it will not be followed up by any hostilities on the part of the above sovereign, with whom it is his royal highness's wish to maintain that good harmony and correspondence which has hitherto subsisted between them; which I think proper to state to your excellency, that you may make the same known to the royal board of commerce, to be by them published wherever it may be necessary.

"Ant. de Araujo Azeuedo.

"Palacio de Ajuda, 2d Oct. 1807."

FALMOUTH, Oct. 13, 1807.

By the arrival of the Welsinham from Lisbon this morning, all the doubts relative to that city are cleared up. On the 25th ult. lord Strangford, our charge d'affaires, and Mr. Gambier, our consul there, called a meeting of the factory, and acquainted its members that the ports of Portugal would shortly be shut against the British, or rather that the country would be invaded by the French.

Of the intention of the Portuguese government with respect to embarking for the Brazils, nothing certain was known; but it was generally understood that the 3 men of war which had dropt down to Belem, together with several frigates and corvettes, were intended to take the royal family, in case of necessity, to that country. This idea was strengthened by the payment of the bills on the Evario being postponed for three months, and also by the erection of a very strong fortification at Penicha, on the coast of Portugal, mounting 200 pieces of cannon, and garrisoned by 6000 men, from whence it is supposed the court would embark, to avoid any opposition from the populace by attempting to embark at Lisbon.

There was, however, still a ray of hope entertained by the Portuguese, that the tyrant of the continent would be appeased, when he found the English had quitted Portugal, and that the fear of having their property confiscated, and their persons seized, would prevent their return; and consequently, that the departure of the court, from its hereditary seat, would not be necessary. This hope they cherished the more, as it was known at Lisbon that the French and Spanish ministers had only proceeded a few leagues from the city, and were still halted at a small village in its vicinity.

Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 7.

The Editor of the Daily Advertiser, will confer a singular favor upon an injured fellow citizen, by inserting the following facts in his respectable paper, viz.

On the 14th June last, I sailed in the ship Royal Sovereign, of 22 guns and 75 men, bound from Charleston to New-Providence and St. Domingo; nothing material occurred until the 17th July following, when we were boarded from his Britannic majesty's ship Chichester, of 44 guns, bound for the island Cuba, who immediately impressed all the Royal Sovereign's officers (the surgeon, gunner, and steward excepted) together with 22 seamen, chiefly Americans, and myself, although not in the capacity of a seaman, not giving us time to procure the smallest article more than we had on—in this situation they hurried us on board the 44 and made sail for Baracoa, in the said island of Cuba, against which place they were ordered with a detachment from 99th. Tipperary regiment of infantry—the Spaniards therein as we bore up to attack the port and batteries opened with a heavy fire of langrage and grape from five different points, which so disabled the ship both in hull and rigging, that after four hours unsuccessful efforts to regain the soldiery we had landed, we were compelled to retreat and bear away for New-Providence, with both chain pumps constantly going—we watered at Providence and made all sail for Jamaica, the ship wanting immediate repairs. Having arrived at the king's dock yard on the 20th of August, in Port-Royal, the people were placed under centinels night and day; but fortunately on Sunday night, 25th October last, I found means of making my escape from British oppression, and arrived safe at Kingston, where I was received with every mark of hospitality and disinterested friendship, by Capt. F. Luckett, of the Alert, bound to Alexandria, and through whose unexampled goodness, I have been once more safe landed in America.

I cannot, on this occasion, express my sentiments of gratitude sufficiently, for the manly and polite conduct of Capt. L and also of Capt. McCobb, of the Helen, who behaved to me with the greatest marks of friendship.

I am, Sir, with respect,
Your fellow-citizen, &c.
JAMES COOKE.

IMPORTANT.

In addition to the information, in the London papers, received by the Leopard, arrived at N. York, and published in this days Register, we have the pleasure to assure our readers that we have perused private letters of as late date as the 17th of October, from respectable houses in London to their correspondents in this city, which state that there were the strongest reasons for believing in an amicable adjustment of our differences with G. Britain—that the mission of Mr Rose as envoy extraordinary to the U. S. was expressly made to effect this desirable purpose—that the appointment of sir John Borlase Warren, who is considered as one of their best admirals, and an accomplished gentleman to succeed admiral Berkeley on the American station is made from the same conciliatory motives—and that it was understood the blockade of their enemies ports would not (as had been some time ago supposed) be rigorously enforced—and under this impression these letters advise a continuance of shipments—On the 17th of October advice had reached London, that a treaty offensive and defensive had been concluded between France and Denmark, and all hopes of a reconciliation with the latter power were at an end.

Combining these advices with opinions recently expressed from the highest authority at Washington, we are led to the pleasing conclusion that the governments of the U. S. and G Britain will prefer the peace and prosperity of their respective countries to war and desolation—the statement of the RUMOURED purport of Mr. Canning's note as given in the National Intelligencer, and published in this day's Register, to the contrary notwithstanding.

The London Statesman, of October 17, contains the following article;

"Cowes, October 16.

"Mr. Munro, surgeon of the Chesapeake, arrived here yesterday morning express from London, and immediately proceeded on board the American schooner Revenge. The Revenge sailed this morning on her return to America."

A London paper of the 15th Oct. says, the appointment of Mr. G. H Rose, who kissed hands the preceding day, is not to succeed Mr. Erskine as minister to the U. S. It does not interfere with that gentleman's ministry. Mr. Rose is going on a special mission.

Bonaparte, says a London paper, is grown so fat and lusty, that those who saw him four or five years ago, would not know him or scarcely believe he is the same person. He never eats meat, as it does not agree with his stomach, but takes often very strong broths of beef, mutton, &c. eats a great deal of vegetables, drinks neither wine nor spirits, but takes coffee, made as strong as possible, five or six times a day. He dresses always very plain; a green coat, with a small star, white waistcoat, pantaloons; and boots; a hat without lace or feathers, with a very small national (round) cockade.

Capture of the Russian Fleet.

By the ship Calypso, capt. Burke, which arrived at this port last night from Bordeaux, we have been favored with Paris papers to the 10th October, but do not find that they contain any interesting intelligence.

Captain B. informs, that on the 22d of October, in lat 46, long 7, he was boarded by the British frigate La Revolutionaire, then in company with the Pomona frigate, who having hoisted several signals, the officer of the La Revolutionaire, informed captain B that the telegraphs of the frigate, intimated the capture of 10 sail of the line of the Russian fleet, off the Dardanelles.

Same day, in lat 45 32, long 10, passed a large convoy of 60 sail, under convoy of the two frigates. November 24, lat 38 22, long 66, spoke ship Eliza, 4 days from Baltimore for Amsterdam. 30th, lat 38 58, long 72 30, schooner Sally of Baltimore, 38 days from Porto Rico, in great distress, having been out of all kinds of provisions for 6 days, and had lived during that time on coffee—supplied them with necessaries. Lat 39 13, long 73 30, spoke brig Sally, 45 days from Bonavista for New York.

IMPORTANT.

Extract of a letter from Liverpool, dated October 17th, received by the Leopard at New York.

"Mr. Rose is appointed envoy extraordinary to the U. S and admiral sir John Borlase Warren succeeds admiral Berkely. They have both taken leave of his majesty. Mr. Munroe left London on the 14th of October for Cowes, to embark on board the Augusta for America.

"By accounts received this day it appears that the royal family of Portugal have not resolution to carry into effect their supposed intention of withdrawing to the Brazils; but have assented to the demands of France, by which the ports of that country are to be shut against us."

Another letter from London, of the 17th, states that Mr. Rose was about leaving England on a special mission to this country.

Extract of a letter from a respectable merchant in Edinburg, to his correspondent in New York.

"What will be the event of a negociation between your country and this, I cannot say; our landed gentlemen are not averse to war, as the Americans pour in too much wheat and flour, the great body of the farmers are of the same mind neither will it much effect our poor manufacturers as the number of men taken away to be soldiers and sailors, keep wages very high and our home consumption and internal trade, though it might have had a considerable effect on our manufactures if you had prohibited our goods twelve months ago, it will have little effect on our laboring poor now, as the state employs all for volunteers, soldiers and sailors"

Extract of a letter from Rotterdam, dated Sept. 29, received at Philadelphia via London.

"We are this instant informed by the arrival of the French post with a new decree of the emperor, authorising all cruizers to detain and carry in as lawful prize, all vessels bound to or from England.—This has been officially notified to the American minister at Paris, who has sent off an express to his government, via Bordeaux."

WASHINGTON, November 28.

It is whispered, that the last dispatches from general Armstrong, taken in connection with the movements of a distinguished stranger to the westward and the departure of his lady to France, has considerably abated the cabinet ardor for a war with G. Britain—and it would not surprise me if our depending negociations in Europe took a very sudden change—the indecorous treatment of your decent memorial to the contrary notwithstanding. The chattering Irish weaver must throw his shuttle to'ther way in the National Loom, where he has so long, and so unprofitably for the country, been hired at six dollars a day. The vile rattle of this blockhead's empty cannister is heard with impatience by the decent men of all parties.
